

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. Benj. Rains, a Methodist preacher, was murdered in Morgan county, Ala.

—The reorganized Church of Jesus Christ (Latter-day Saints) will hold a world's conference, beginning April 6, at St. Joseph, Mo.

—Rev. Morris Evans began a protracted meeting at the Methodist church last night. He will continue to preach through this week and next week will be assisted by some good preachers, but who it is not yet definitely known.

—Beecher's old church is in a bad way. The receipts for the year were $20,000, while the expenses exceeded that sum about $2,000. At one period in the history of Plymouth, during the life of Henry Ward Beecher, the receipts from the annual sale of pews alone amounted to $68,000.

—Rev. H. C. Morrison seems to have undertaken a big job for so small a man with so small a paper as his "Old Methodist." He may be able to effect a general revolution, but some of these evils will exist till the glad millennium dawns. But hear him: "We declare war against the whisky traffic in all of its forms; against the theatre, it matters not what the play is or who is on the stage; against the card table, whether in the gambling den or in the parlor of professed christians; against the dance at any time, place or manner of taking hold. We believe all these things to be emissaries of the devil and intend to fight them as long as there is a grain of powder in our magazine, and will never be taken alive."

The Chesapeake & Ohio Route.

The schedule of this great trunk railway appears in this issue and reference to it will show what quick time is made over it to all points East. It is by far the shortest route to Washington and without question the most picturesque. The scenery along the Kanawha, New and Greenbrier rivers and through the Allegheny and Blue Ridge Mountains is almost incomparable; the line runs the finest Pullman Buffet cars that are made and the ride through the most interesting section is made in the day time, affording an excellent chance to view it. Those intending to visit Washington during the Inaugural should examine into the advantages of this route, of which the half has not been told. The rate will be one fare for the round-trip, good, going March 2 and 3 and returning on the 5th. For further information write or address W. W. Monroe, Gen. Pass. Agent, Lexington, Ky., and ask for tickets via N. & M. V. Co., the C. & O. Route.

DANVILLE.—Col. C. R. Anderson and Miss Katherine Story Hollinshead, of Dayton, O., will be married February 12. Miss Hollinshead, who is a most charming and attractive young lady, was one of the most popular of the many visitors to this city during the past summer and will be remembered for her captivating manners and rare intelligence. W. R. Marrs and Miss Sarah F. Anderson, of Lancaster, were united in the sweet union at matrimony at the Clemens House yesterday. The marriage of Dr. T. R. Welsh, of Nicholasville, and Miss Josephine, daughter of Elder Wm. Stanley, pastor of the Christian church, this city, will be solemnized on the 15th. Richard Coyner shipped a car-load of lambs to Cincinnati, for which he received 5 cts. per lb.—Advocate.

RICHMOND.—Elder A. J. Tribble, of this county, has been presented by the sisters of the Preachersville, Lincoln county, church, with a crazy silk quilt, which is one of the most exquisite pieces of artistic quilting we have ever seen. It is a large size quilt, composed of elegant squares of rich material of all shades. In the center of each square is the name of the lady who presented it. J. W. and L. A. Ballard sold 21 mules to Gentry Bros. for $2,275. June Armstrong sold to same parties 33 mules for $3,325. G. J. White & Son bought of Dr. H. J. Bennett, 21 mules for $2,100. R. G. Ballard sold six mules to Gentry Bros. for $540. Charles E. Smith bought from James H. Boggs 22½ acres of land, situated about 1½ miles from Richmond, for which he paid $56.50 per acre.—Register.

—The Wool Growers Association, which claims that it defeated Cleveland, has presented a schedule greatly increasing the tariff on wool and demands that it shall be adopted.

Climate for Consumptives.

The several climates of Florida, Colorado and California have each been prescribed for sufferers from lung disease, yet thousands of the natives in those States die of this fatal malady. A far more reliable remedy is to be had in every drug store in the land and one that can be used at home; a remedy which is sold by druggists under the manufacturers' positive guarantee that taken in time and given a fair trial it will effect a cure or money paid for it will be promptly returned. We refer to that world-famous remedy for consumption (or lung scrofula) known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the only remedy for this terrible disease possessed of such superior curative properties as to warrant its manufacturers in selling it under a guarantee.

Don't throw, and blow, and spit, but use Dr. Sugi's Catarrh Remedy. Of druggists.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Cedar posts for sale. Jos. Ballou. *
—Bailey Hill had a valuable horse to die from pneumonia Friday.

—A big lot of baled timothy hay for sale. Apply to Danl. Stagg, Jr.

—J. M. Hall sold to R. O. McLean a bunch of 2-year-old mules at $80.

—D. N. Prewitt bought of Will Alexander a pair of work mules for $240.

—A false report regarding the crop of 1888 sent wheat down to $1.03 at Chicago.

—Wakelield & Lee, of Danville, sold to D. N. Prewitt 100 scrub sheep at 31 cents.

—For SALE.—Car-load of strictly nice yearling cotton mules, in good order. B. W. Gaines. 4t

—J. H. Taylor bought of West End parties 25 head of yearling mules at from $60 to $70.

—J. L. Cogar bought 1,000 barrels of corn from Davis Bros. at $1.75 per barrel.

—Midway Clipper.

—A. T. Nunnell shipped to Cincinnati Saturday a car-load of shoats for which he paid 4 cts.

—For SALE.—100 bushels of nice, clean clover seed and about 20 bushels of timothy seed. Root & Carter. 4t

—A. T. Nunnell bought for Tennessee party 62 yearling mules from different parties in this county at $60 to $87.

—Mules are being shipped from this county to the South at the rate of a car-load a day and still the supply is not exhausted.

—A. T. Nunnell leaves to-day for Atlanta, Ga., with a car-load of cotton mules, which he bought in this county at $80 to $130.

The cattle market remains dull. The price here for 1,000 to 1,200 pound cattle is 31, and lighter grades at 2c and 3c.—Somerset Reporter.

—J. P. King bought of parties in the East End a lot of mountain cattle at 21 cents and sold to Robert Land a pair of buggy horses for $235.

—Jo C. Phillips bought this week of Finley & McKicken, of Georgetown, 26 mules, 24 of which were mares, at $115 each.—Lebanon Enterprise.

—Over $6,000 worth of mules were sold in Hardin Co., last week to Tennessee parties. John Coombs sold 16 head at $105 a head; J. Boyd 22 head for $2,200 and McCague & Watkins 21 head at $2,180.—News.

—To STOCKMEN.—We are authorized by the Secretary, Mr. W. J. Lyle, to club the Kentucky Stock Farm, a splendid paper published in the interest of the trotting horse, with our paper, at $3.50, thus saving you 50 cents in the price of the two.

—The farm which Henry Reed sold to Frank Champ, at $72.50 per acre, was sold by postmaster John A. Miller in 1865, to Alex. McClintock, for $127.05 per acre. Mr. McClintock sold it to the Porter Bros. for about $90 and their assignee sold it at public sale at a very depressing time for $69 per acre.—Bourbon News.

—The great premier at Elmhurst, Glenelg, has not only headed the winning sires more years than any horse now in the stud in America, but he also has the honor of heading all living sires by the amount won by his produce. Since 1876, when his get first appeared in public, his sons and daughters have won 1,009 races and a total of $826,455.42. He is now 23 years old, but still shows no signs of coming dissolution.

Peach-blow cheeks and rosy lips deep blue eyes and curly auburn hair, are possessed by the lovely girl whose face adorns Hood's Sarsaparilla Calendar for '89. She wears a dainty bonnet and the head is cut out so as to look quite realistic. Hood's Sarsaparilla is easily the best of the kind, and like the Sarsaparilla it represents, is a good thing to have in the house. The pad harmonizes with the exquisite array of color above, while the dates are easily read. Hood's Calendar may be obtained of your druggist or by sending six cents in stamps to C. F. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

AN ARTISTIC LAR.—Thomas Robinson, an artistic painter, was painting a barn near Turkeyfoot last week. A large log was lying near, so he took his brush and painted a circle, making the log appear hollow. He then went to dinner, and returning he found 37 rabbits and five squirrels lying on the ground near by, dead. They had been scared up by hunters and tried to take refuge in the log, but instead, they knocked their brains out. The boys in the country should try this.—Cynthiana Democrat.

The Only Perfect Remedy

For habitual constipation, dyspepsia, and kindred ills is the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. It strengthens as well as cleanses the system, it is easily taken, and perfectly harmless.

For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford.

—The Kentucky State Colored Normal School will open at Frankfort January 21. The school is to qualify teachers for Kentucky colored schools.

—There has been another continuance in the case of Dr. Hourigan, who killed his brother-in-law in Marion.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

—Mrs. William Pepples, aged 65, died Sunday at her home near Halls Gap, of old age, in connection with other infirmities. Her remains were interred in Buffalo Cemetery yesterday.

—Mr. J. J. Tate, a prominent business man of Casey, and for several terms sheriff of that county, died suddenly Thursday last. He was an honest and upright man and his death will cause a general regret. He was a brother of our townsman, Mr. W. P. Tate.

—In the 78th year of his age, of erysipelas and divers other diseases,

breathed his last just as the town clock struck 12 Sunday, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Kate Dudderar, with whom he has lived for the last few years. During Mr. Fields' long life he never gave his life to God, but those who were best acquainted with him speak of him as a man of high morals and far above doing those things which he thought wrong. He was married three times and seven children survive him, his last wife preceding him to the grave quite a number of years. His children, whom he doted upon, were justly proud of him and have shown their appreciation of a loving father by living the straightforward life he taught them by word and example to lead. During his declining years, his constitution was so racked with bodily infirmities, that his mind began to weaken and at the time of his death it had failed him entirely. Although old and decrepit, his latter years proved the devotion of his children, who have supplied his every want and who watched by his bedside with eager eyes, hoping to see some improvement in their father who was gradually crossing the river into, we hope, a better world. His remains will be buried in Buffalo Cemetery this morning at 10 o'clock, after a short service at the grave by Rev. John Bell Gibson.

HUSTONVILLE.

—Miss Belle Bascomb, of Missouri, whose mother was of the old Walker family, of this county, is spending a few days with relatives here.

—The editor's calamity is very generally deplored and the public sympathy in this community evidently sincere. The "cause" of the trouble is, just now, a warmly controverted question exceeding in interest the old investigation as to "Who struck Billy Patterson?" and likely to be as long unsettled.

—At an exhibition of our colored school on Friday night, two of the young bloods, Ad Clark—a former lieutenant of Dr. Brown and more recently an inmate of Sam Owens' caravansary—and Loge Cooper (a dude who is just beginning to assert himself) both of the colored candidacy for perdition—got up a side show in which they exchanged a few shots without effect except on the nerves of the ladies. The city authorities took no notice and the fierce belligerents are probably practicing for the next demonstration.

—Nothing but the ungracious charge of abandoning the editor in the day of his enforced quietness could induce me to transgress with the trite confession that "there is nothing to write about." No visitors to chronicle, no marriages in contemplation, no big trades effected, no capitalists blown up, no decent sized crimes committed. We are in a most uneventful and anomalous state of society. The only two events of interest are the arrival of Dr. Price from Stanford and the transfer of Wilkins to Stanford. The latter goes for the lacy of a hog from Gill Cowan; the former comes on professional business, probably!

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Miss Theresa Bunell, a worthy young lady whose home was in Stanford last year, was married at her father's, near Elizabethtown, last week, to Mr. Charles Perry, a prosperous young farmer.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford, Ky.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Salt, druggist, Bippis, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellevue, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only half dollar a bottle at A. R. Penny's drug store.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Asthma of Lungs and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made." Jose Middlewast, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption I would have died of Lung Trouble. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at A. R. Penny's drugstore.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Mr. John Reid and wife, nee Miss Bessie Franklin, of Gallatin, Tenn., are spending a few days with the family of Mr. W. R. Robinson, of this city. Mr. Reid was formerly a resident of Danville and now brings his young and beautiful bride to see the land of his birth, of which he, like all true Kentuckians, is so justly proud. Mr. Reid is indeed a fortunate man in the possession of so lovely a bride and in addition to this can claim this as the State of his nativity.

—Mr. W. R. Marrs and Miss Sara Anderson, both of this city, surprised their many friends Thursday last by quietly driving over to Danville, where, in the parlors of Gilcher's Hotel, they were married. Rev. J. C. Randolph was the officiating minister. After the wedding the parties returned to this place and are now at home to their friends at the residence of Mrs. Stephen Marrs, the bridegroom's mother. We tender our best wishes and trust the future may bring to them but few of the sorrows and all the joys attending a life of prosperity and happiness.

—Mr. Wood Herring, aged about 19, and son of James Herring, Sr., of this county, died at his father's residence, of inflammation of the stomach and bowels, on the morning of the 11th. The body was interred in Lancaster Cemetery on Friday, after services at the Christian church, conducted by Elder C. C. Cline. George A. Feathers, who was for many years a resident of this town, died near Bryansville, this county, Friday, 11th, and his remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at this place Saturday. The large number of friends who came to pay the last tribute of respect attested the fact that he had lost none of those sterling qualities of mind and heart, which drew to him as friends so many of our people when he resided here.

—That the patrons of your paper may not be disappointed when they read the Lancaster letter, we deem it our duty to inform them that the regular correspondence is away from home, a fact that they will most likely discover before reaching this point. Yes, the gentle, genuine John Woodcock, one of the few who make it their mission on earth to make happier and better the lives of those with whom they are associated, is spending a season with Bro. Barnes and his family at Naples, Fla., and so we take advantage of the opportunity to lay this little wreath of laurel on the brow of one who so sweetly remembered us when the shadows came and whose unselfish friendship has so often been manifested in deeds of loving kindness. And now, dear John, if this should meet your eye in far away Naples by the sea, we humbly beg pardon for thus parading before the public the virtues which you so modestly attempt to conceal, and when you return the "sun will shine brighter in the old Kentucky home" to many others besides your own loved ones.

Talnage is the pride of the American pulpit, but the hearts of the poultrymen leap with joy at the mention of Garter's chicken Cholera Cure. Sold "no cure, no pay" by McRoberts & Stagg.

PUBLIC SALE OF A VALUABLE FARM.

On Saturday, Feb. 2, 1889,

Upon the premises of Andrew C. Tucker, dec'd we will, as the heirs of said decedent, sell at public auction to the highest bidder his

Farm of About 179 Acres

Of Fine Blue-Grass Land, Situated immediately upon the Stanford and Ottentown turnpike, 5 miles from Stanford and one-fourth mile of Maywood Station, on the Knoxville Branch of the L. & N. R. R. in Lincoln county. The farm is well fenced, has upon it a substantial dwelling, an excellent barn, and other suitable buildings and is in a high state of cultivation. The title is fee simple, with general warranty will be made to the purchaser. Possession will be given as soon as the first payment is made. Terms: One-half cash; balance in 1 and 2 years equal installments, bearing interest from date. If the farm should not be sold, it will be rented for the year 1889. W. T. TUCKER, Adm.

PUBLIC SALE.

OF—

VALUABLE COAL AND TIMBER LANDS

—ON—

Wednesday, Feb. 6, 1889,

at 12 o'clock A. M. at the town of

will be sold to the highest bidder, at public auction, about 600 acres of Coal and Timber Lands. This is one of the most valuable tracts of all the lands in this region, so celebrated for its coal and timber. The lands surrounding it are now being worked, and the product finds a fine market being on the line of the Knoxville Branch of the L. & N. R. R., and in direct connection with the city of Louisville where a large part of the output is disposed of. The lowest estimate made is 700 acres of solid coal of good workable thickness in this tract with plenty of fine timber for mining purposes. Part of this land is now being worked and produces a coal of very superior quality which commands ready sale and good returns.

This sale offers a fine opportunity to parties looking either for investment for the future or desiring to develop the land at once.

Pittsburgh is immediately on the line of the Knoxville Branch of the L. & N. R. R., and about midway between Louisville and Knoxville, and has for many years been an important coal-producing district.

Parties desiring to inspect the land before day of sale can do so by applying either to Geo. Givens or Wm. McNeil, at Pittsburgh.

Sale positive and made to close a partnership.

TERMS.—One-third cash in hand, balance in equal payments of 12 and 18 months from day of sale. Purchaser to execute bonds with good security, bearing 6 percent interest from day of sale; then also retained for deferred payments.

HATS,

W. P. WALTON.

The periodical interview with "Gen." Bradley by his lieutenant, Col. Woodford Dunlap, appears under the head of a Millersburg dispatch. It describes the "general" as very brainy man, with dark brown eyes, which look directly into yours while talking, below the medium height and with well developed digestive organs. He is giving the usual credit for nearly revolutionizing Kentucky and is described as the big Goliath generally. Of course he thinks he thinks that Kentucky will go republican in 1891 and that when the South is educated from the fund provided by the national government under the provisions of the Blair bill, there will be general hegira to the republican ranks, as education alone is necessary to this most devoutly wished consummation. That education naturally makes a man a republican is not backed by the facts. Here in Kentucky that party is largely, we might say almost entirely, composed of ignorant negroes and fully as ignorant whites and but for these, whose prejudices men like the "general" impose upon, he himself would be ashamed of the corporal's guard that would surround him. The "general" is much given to talking with his mouth, but he is a monstrous clever fellow as he is a devilish sly one, and we like him not a little and wish him a fat office and smooth sailing for the next four years. So here's to you, "general," and your trusty lieutenant, you make a good pair and one the average seeker after pie will do well to draw to.

The republicans will never agree to it, but the plan of electing postmasters and other officers directly connected with the people has many reasons to recommend it, in addition to those given by the Louisville Times below. It would always secure the most popular and acceptable men to those most interested and insure the political party predominating in a locality the offices that should belong to it. The plan has been tried at a number of places during the last four years and worked well. The Times says: The United States has 57,376 post-offices and all postmasters should be elected by the people of the vicinity. This would give the President more time to think about statesmanship, and require less of his time for politics, besides, we would have more purity and independence in the Federal Administration and our National contests would be less embittered. The choosing of postmasters, district attorneys, United States marshals and collectors of internal revenue by the people direct would be the very best civil service reform ever invented.

The rails have already begun to mature plans for their perpetuation of power. Sherman takes the lead by presenting a bill in the Senate, providing for the election of Republican Congressmen which is to be done through State Canvassing boards, to be appointed by Gen. Harrison, when president, and to appoint Judges and Registrars of Election, who will hold their office for six years, or two years into the next administration. The days of returning boards and Liza Pinkston are passed we hope, and we have confidence that the people will not submit to their return.

The Columbia Spectator asks a petition is being circulated asking Congress to increase Gen. Frank Wolford's pension to $50. We believe Gen. Fry is getting $100 a month for deafness alleged to have been caused by service in the war, although he is physically sound and able to attend to any kind of business. On the other hand, Gen. Wolford, who did much more for his country, gets a small sum, notwithstanding he was terribly wounded and still suffers from its effects. No wonder is it that President Cleveland recommended a more just and uniform system of pensions.

An exchange says that Gen. Harrison is said to have told a newspaper correspondent that he had not yet determined upon a single member of his cabinet. It has been determined for him, however, that Blaine shall be his Secretary of State and he will have to march to the music, whether he likes it or not. Blaine is going to run the incoming administration, even with a higher hand than he did Garfield's.

The Deaf Mute, published at the Danville Institution, is greatly enlarged and improved. The price has been increased to 75 cents a year, which is cheap for such a bright little paper. Much of the writing and all of the type-setting and press work are done by the pupils.

The prohibitionists scored a victory in New Hampshire, the constitutional convention adopting by a vote of 166 to 131, an amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of all intoxicating liquors, "except cider."

The wife of Ben Harrison, of Indianapolis, has secured a divorce from him. Don't stand agast, dear reader. It is not the president-elect that is spoken of but another fellow in the same city bearing the same name.

MR. L. V. DODGE writes that we did Berea College a very great injustice in our issue of the 8th, and refers us to President Fairchild's letter which appears in the last Richmond Register relative to the war among the races there. We admit that we have no great love for an institution conducted on the plan that Berea is, but we would do it no injustice intentionally so we give space to the most of the president's letter, which is as follows: "There was no 'rebellion,' nor any thought of one. A few white young men, by mistake, thought they had permission to organize a separate white table, and began efforts in that direction. A few colored students sought to defeat the effort by sitting at the same table. The colored boy who 'got the worst of it' sits there still. The war outside was a war of words. No knives or other weapons were used or seen, and there is no proof of their existence. No oath was uttered; there were threats and might have been blows had not a professor accidentally appeared. No subordinate teacher had anything to do with it. Instead of a temporary truce there is perfect quiet, and sincere regret on the part of the few participants. Having spent the most of my life in schools, I know of none more easily governed than this, of which I have been president almost 25 years."

MATTERS continue very much mixed in West Virginia. The Senate, which stands 13 democrats to 13 republicans, remains unorganized and the struggle seems no nearer the end than at the start. The republicans are vainly endeavoring to wrench from the democrats the State, which was born of a political rape upon fair old Virginia during the war. The results were as disappointing as the act was reprehensible and the new State soon proved as democratic as her outraged mother. The republicans think they have it at last, but if they secure it, it will only be by the most diabolical frauds. The struggle involves the choice of a governor, the selection of a United States Senator, and, incidentally, the representation of two Congressional districts.

The Capital emphatically denies the rumor started by enemies that trouble between Dr. John H. Woods and some of his employees caused him to resign the office of public printer. In his valedictory the doctor states that he had fully decided to retire from public life and did not care longer to be separated from his family, who had moved to their home near Bowling Green. He has now joined the noble army of horny-handed grangers, but as Col. Johnson says he won't wear the ink off his fingers before he will be editing another paper. His is too bright a pen to be allowed to lie idle and we only hope that his retirement is but temporary.

The Louisville Commercial does not take kindly to our nomination of Judge M. J. Durham for governor, because it thinks he is too old and is still living in another generation. It thinks Kentucky "needs a young, liberal, progressive, able man at the head of State affairs, one who will encourage by his suggestions and inspire by his presence." Judge Durham may not be as young as he used to be, nor as young as the Commercial's favorite, but he is as far from being an old fogey as the next one, and should he enter the race he would make it lively for any of the contestants.

The prohibition organ, the Voice, is going to prosecute Quay, Dudley and Clarkson, of the republican committee, for conspiring with a thief to secure for them the paper's mail list and then paying him for its delivery to them. It is a pretty big undertaking to try to land these rascals where they belong—in a penitentiary, and while all honest people will wish the paper success, they yet have grave doubts that the rascals will get their deserts. The penitentiary seems to have been devised for negroes and poor white folks.

The Paducah Standard in view of the fact that the admission of new States is now the order of the day, recalls the project of making a State out of Jackson's purchase in Kentucky, Tennessee and Mississippi, to be known as the State of Jackson. The sentiment was pretty strong for it 15 or 20 years ago, but as it is solidly democratic it is not likely to become a State soon. That's not the kind of States the republicans are after making.

Is common with all large owners of the precious gems, we feel very grateful that the republican State has agreed to a reduction of the tariff on pearls from 25 to 10 per cent. In the meantime the necessities of life continue at the old war rate. The republican party is a wonderful party, but it cannot be accused of being the party of the people.

All the English papers in Louisville are united on the same question at last—that the teaching of German must be eliminated from the curriculum of the public schools. The issue is forced by the report of the school board that it is $70,000 in debt. A good English education ought to satisfy the average common school pupil.

A State Treasurer is to be elected next August, though so far no candidates have been announced. For various and sundry reasons, we are authorized to state that "Honest" (God save the mark!) Dick Tate will not again claim an endorsement.

That excellently edited paper, the Owensboro Inquirer, has a well timed article against the candidacy of Thomas G. Poore, deputy clerk of the court of appeals, for that office or for any other person who profited by the election of that miserable specimen of humanity, Tom Henry, who farmed the office out and whose disgraceful acts before and since he was honored with it has done more to injure the democracy than many other things combined. We fully agree with Messrs. Ford and Givens and think Mr. Poore should receive the cold shoulder of every one who knows the facts of the deal.

A DELEGATION of 22 Virginia republicans, renegades, most of them, representing the 10 Congressional districts of the State, called on Harrison Saturday to urge the claims of their master, Mahone, for a position in the cabinet. The President-elect heard them attentively, but made no promises, contenting himself with saying he was glad they felt so much interest in his selection of a cabinet. Mahone is nothing if not a rascal, still he is a pretty fair representative of the leading Southern republicans, and if Mr. Harrison likes that kind of a man, we rather think he is the kind of a man he would like.

THE State press is placing us under obligations that we will never be able to repay, should we live to be as old as Methuselah and put in 24 hours a day trying. A full edition of this paper could not contain all the good things that have been said about us and ten editions could not begin to express the gratitude we feel toward the dear fellows, whose hearts seem to have run off with their heads. Thank you all, brethren, and remember that we are always yours to command.

JAMES MARRET is back at his old post on the Mt. Vernon Signal, imparting to it the old-time flavor. For a man of his inches Jim gets in about as much work as any in the country. He is depot agent and telegraph operator, editor, manager of a furniture factory, correspondent of the INTERIOR JOURNAL and several daily newspapers, and perhaps a half dozen other things that we do not now recall. Strange to say, too, he makes a success of each and Marret's approbation in all.

COL. E. POLK JOHNSON returns thanks through his paper, the Frankfort Capital, for the unanimous expressions of esteem for him called forth by his appointment to the office of public printer and binder, but adds that he "fears that he is not the altogether good fellow they have united in making him out to be." This is another evidence of the Colonel's modesty. It would be hard indeed for the press to say anything good about the "old man" that is not deserved.

TWENTY-EIGHT days flat of the back and without change of place further than the body from the waist up could wiggle and twist, ought to have made us, it would seem, a meeker man than Moses, a more patient one than Job and a more pious man than Bro. Barnes. But has it? Ask the old women and Dr. Peyton; we are not a competent witness.

FEARING that he would compromise himself and get off some of the rough edges of bitter feeling he has for the South, Murat Halstead has declined to accept the invitation of the Louisville Commercial Club to its banquet. It is well. Murat should not be allowed this side of the Ohio river.

JOHN S. WISE, who hates Mahone like his Satan's majesty does holy water, dropped down to Indianapolis the other day and put a spider in the dumpling the 22 degenerate Virginians had prepared for the little boss and served before Harrison.

BEN RIDGELY has recovered from his long illness and is himself again as the columns of the Louisville Truth testify. There is no more versatile writer on the press than Mr. Ridgely whose bubbling humor shows in everything he writes.

W. P. WALTON.

The periodical interview with "Gen." Bradley by his lieutenant, Col. Woodford Dunlap, appears under the head of a Millersburg dispatch. It describes the "general" as very brainy man, with dark brown eyes, which look directly into yours while talking, below the medium height and with well developed digestive organs. He is giving the usual credit for nearly revolutionizing Kentucky and is described as the big Goliath generally. Of course he thinks he thinks that Kentucky will go republican in 1891 and that when the South is educated from the fund provided by the national government under the provisions of the Blair bill, there will be general hegira to the republican ranks, as education alone is necessary to this most devoutly wished consummation. That education naturally makes a man a republican is not backed by the facts. Here in Kentucky that party is largely, we might say almost entirely, composed of ignorant negroes and fully as ignorant whites and but for these, whose prejudices men like the "general" impose upon, he himself would be ashamed of the corporal's guard that would surround him. The "general" is much given to talking with his mouth, but he is a monstrous clever fellow as he is a devilish sly one, and we like him not a little and wish him a fat office and smooth sailing for the next four years. So here's to you, "general," and your trusty lieutenant, you make a good pair and one the average seeker after pie will do well to draw to.

The Republicans will never agree to it, but the plan of electing postmasters and other officers directly connected with the people has many reasons to recommend it, in addition to those given by the Louisville Times below. It would always secure the most popular and acceptable men to those most interested and insure the political party predominating in a locality the offices that should belong to it. The plan has been tried at a number of places during the last four years and worked well. The Times says: The United States has 57,376 post-offices and all postmasters should be elected by the people of the vicinity. This would give the President more time to think about statesmanship, and require less of his time for politics, besides, we would have more purity and independence in the Federal Administration and our National contests would be less embittered. The choosing of postmasters, district attorneys, United States marshals and collectors of internal revenue by the people direct would be the very best civil service reform ever invented.

The rads have already begun to mature plans for their perpetuation of power. Sherman takes the lead by presenting a bill in the Senate, providing for the election of Republican Congressmen which is to be done through State Canvassing boards, to be appointed by Gen. Harrison, when president, and to appoint Judges and Registrars of Election, who will hold their office for six years, or two years into the next administration. The days of returning boards and Liza Pinkston are passed we hope, and we have confidence that the people will not submit to their return.

The Columbia Spectator says a petition is being circulated asking Congress to increase Gen. Frank Wolford's pension to $50. We believe Gen. Fry is getting $100 a month for deafness alleged to have been caused by service in the war, although he is physically sound and able to attend to any kind of business. On the other hand, Gen. Wolford, who did much more for his country, gets a small sum, notwithstanding he was terribly wounded and still suffers from its effects. No wonder it is that President Cleveland recommended a more just and uniform system of pensions.

An exchange says that Gen. Harrison is said to have told a newspaper correspondent that he had not yet determined upon a single member of his cabinet. It has been determined for him, however, that Blaine shall be his Secretary of State and he will have to march to the music, whether he likes it or not. Blaine is going to run the incoming administration, even with a higher hand than he did Garfield's.

The Deaf Mute, published at the Danville Institution, is greatly enlarged and improved. The price has been increased to 75 cents a year, which is cheap for such a bright little paper. Much of the writing and all of the type-setting and press work are done by the pupils.

The prohibitionists scored a victory in New Hampshire, the constitutional convention adopting by a vote of 166 to 131, an amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of all intoxicating liquors, "except cider."

The wife of Ben Harrison, of Indianapolis, has secured a divorce from him. Don't stand aghast, dear reader. It is not the president-elect that is spoken of but another fellow in the same city bearing the same name.

MR. L. V. DODGE writes that we did Berea College a very great injustice in our issue of the 8th, and refers us to President Fairchild's letter which appears in the last Richmond Register relative to the war among the races there. We admit that we have no great love for an institution conducted on the plan that Berea is, but we would do it no injustice intentionally so we give space to the most of the president's letter, which is as follows: "There was no 'rebellion,' nor any thought of one. A few white young men, by mistake, thought they had permission to organize a separate white table, and began efforts in that direction. A few colored students sought to defeat the effort by sitting at the same table. The colored boy who 'got the worst of it' sits there still. The war outside was a war of words. No knives or other weapons were used or seen, and there is no proof of their existence. No oath was uttered; there were threats and might have been blows had not a professor accidentally appeared. —The loss of life by the cyclone which swept over Southern Pennsylvania last week is not so great as reported, though 50 or more persons were killed at Reading and 15 at Pittsburg. The loss to property there and elsewhere was simply terrible.

—The father of William R. Foster, Jr., who recently robbed the New York Produce Exchange gratuity fund of nearly $200,000, sent the custodians of the fund a check for $50,000, explaining that it was his son's share of the fortune which he intended to divide among his children.

—The following were elected directors of the First National Bank of London: Vincent Boring, R. M. Jackson, George Givens, Joseph Sampson, J. V. Elliott, C. V. Anderson, W. A. Pugh, J. A. Craft and J. W. Alcorn. The directors elected Vincent Boring president of the board and R. M. Jackson vice-president.—Echo.

—Andrew Ferguson, an old colored man of this city, has donated to the Presbytery of Louisville property valued at $10,000. It was his all and has been accumulated through a lifetime of toil. He is 70 years of age and the gift leaves him dependent upon his exertions for the means of subsistence.—Courier-Journal.

—The Department of Agriculture reports last year's crop of corn at 1,987,790,000 bushels, valued at the farm at $677,561,580 or $30,000,000 more than 1887. The wheat aggregate is 414,686,000 bushels, valued at $284,248,000, $31,000,000 more than the year before. The oats crop was 797,737,000 bushels and worth $5,000,000 less than in 1887.

I am greatly in need of money and would be pleased if my customers, those knowing themselves indebted to me, would call and settle their old accounts. M. F. Elkin.

The Stanford Roller Mills, Supt. W. N. Potts tells us, put in a steamer last week for the purpose of steaming the wheat and thereby making the skin tougher and causing it to come off more evenly. Mr. Potts never lets any improvement escape his attention.

HAVING bought of Mr. A. T. Nunnally his livery business and added considerably to it, I am now prepared to furnish first-class turnouts on the shortest notice. I will always be found at my stable and rigs can be obtained night as well as day. It will be my aim to treat all alike and I ask a share of the patronage of all. Will also board horses by the day or month. I. M. Bruce.

The little boy, Harry Baker, who was shot in the hip a few months ago while he with his sister was trying to scare away a tramp, who had tried to get into the house in the absence of Mr. Baker, who lives near Junction City, an account of which we gave at the time of its happening, is thought to be in a dangerous condition. He has been gradually growing worse since the accident and the doctors beginning alarmed at the wound, which has not yet healed, and found a lot of shattered bones. These they took out, but the boy, whose constitution is broken down from such suffering as he has had to bear, will not likely recover from the operation. This is a peculiarly sad case, as the discharge was from the gun his sister held in her hand, and the little boy was holding up a window for her to shoot out. It is another instance where the tramp nuisance has done serious damage and again it is proven that a coat of tar and feathers should be applied to the worthless scoundrels.

In the light we look at the newspaper business we can see as plainly as the Babylonians at the Feast of Belshazzar saw the handwriting on the wall that it is our duty, as solemn as any other obligation, to give that news which we think will interest our readers. This, we know, we occasionally fall short of doing. We consider sales, business changes and the like as matter both entertaining to our readers and helpful to the persons making the changes and hence if we deem such trade of sale of sufficient importance for publication we print it without consulting anybody. But, while we are at all times anxious for such items, dear reader, do not think for an instant that we are dependent on such news. We have oceans to print, much more than we have space for, and we frequently leave out matter which no doubt to the mass would be more readable, for the sake of obliging our town and countymen by inserting that which concerns them. And we ask, as a favor to us, should the publication of such business changes fail to meet with the approbation of the either the "trader or tradee" that we be informed of the fact, and we shall take the matter under consideration.

A few days ago as Mr. James E. Lynn was taking a walk over his farm for the purpose of seeing how his stock was getting along and was no doubt in deep thought, when he happened to look up to find that a large goat of the "Billy" gender was making for him as fast as his feet could carry him. With but a moment to study what to do, for the goat was most upon him, Mr. Lynn decided to make for the fence, some 50 yards from him and thereby outwit the mad-dened Billy, who seemed intent on damaging his master. Those who know Mr. Lynn are well aware of the fact that he possesses more composure than running quality and of course he was overtaken before he reached the fence before him. Seeing that battle was imminent the gentleman shed his coat and went in for blood. After a desperate fight for 30 minutes or more Mr. Lynn decided that he stood only a chance of coming out second best or perhaps not coming out at all, he began to call for assistance. Being a considerable distance from his house and the wind blowing like sheet in the opposite direction, he yelled and fought alternately some ten minutes longer, when his son heard him and rushed to the scene. By this time the goat was getting a little worsted and with his master's reinforcements he was soon knocked out of the ring. Mr. Lynn was more scared than hurt and acknowledges that he thought his day of doom was upon him.

The Buffalo Spring Cemetery Co., has bought of Mr. Wesley Ront, his house and lot on cemetery hill for $2,500.

The Rowland people were so much impressed with Pascal Porter, the boy preacher, that they kept him with them an entire week.

By the escaping of steam from the boiler of his engine, Engineer Raynor inhaled some and is now suffering severely the effects of it.

Mrs. JOHN SHEAREN, who is suffering from dropsy of the bowels, gave birth to twins Friday. They were both boys and both died in a short time.

BOB BARNETT, brakeman, fell from a box car near Livingston Saturday and scarred his head up considerably. Otherwise he escaped unhurt.

The Presbyterian church was crowded Sunday afternoon to hear Pascal Porter, the boy preacher. His discourse was considered a very fine one.

Is our advertisement columns will be found an advertisement containing the description of the horse and buggy recently stolen from James Reid. Besides the State reward of $50 he offers an additional one of $25.

The First National Bank elected its old board of directors with the exception of Mr. Vincent Boring, who resigned on account of his connection with the bank at London. Mr. F. Reid will fill the vacancy.

Owing to a misunderstanding, the Colored Hop Club and George Butcher, manager of Odd Fellows' Hall failed to come to an agreement and instead of holding their New Year's ball there they have rented Walton's Opera House.

The following from the San Diego, Cal., Sun will interest the gentleman's many friends here: W. B. Cloyd was the joyful recipient of the most precious New Year's gift he has ever received, a plump 9-pound daughter. Both mother and daughter are reported doing well.

A doctor tells us that the pavement in front of the College is making bow-legged, twisted-ankled girls and that humanity demands that it be repaired. Can't the city council enforce its orders or is it absolutely without power? The order to repair was made many months ago.

HOG STEALING.—William Wilkins, claiming Casey as his home, was caught stealing a couple of hogs from a negro living near Hustonville Friday night and was jailed here Saturday by Police Judge George Ryan. This is a pretty grave charge and Mr. Wilkins will likely go up for a year or so.

The editor, although suffering considerable pain, might be said to be in clover. He had 22 visitors, a good many of them young girls, one day last week and received five waiters and baskets containing delicacies. A broken leg is not so bad after all, especially when a person has been remembered so frequently and substantially as has the editor.

JOE MELVIN, of Crab Orchard, has bought the interest of Mr. F. W. Dillon, his former partner in the saw-mill business, for $2,000 and will continue the business alone. We received by our underground wire the information that Mr. Dillon would like to be postmaster at Crab Orchard. There are already 5 or 6 applicants and the prospect is that the winner will have a hard fight.

As has already been mentioned in your paper I have had to give up the regular pastorate on account of ill-health. I have accepted a position as traveling correspondent for the Union Central Life Insurance Co., of Cincinnati. This, I hope, is only temporary, as I desire as soon as possible to assume the pastorate for which I have endeavored to fit myself and to make my life work. R. B. Mahony.

MR. LUCIEN LASELY returned from Columbia, Mo., Sunday with his two 2-year-old thoroughbreds, Wood Moss and Ballymena, which he purchased there several months ago. They are fine lookers and we hope Mr. Lasely will make the racers of them he anticipates. He will take them, with the rest of the string, to Crab Orchard and put them in training as soon as the weather permits.

D. R. CARPENTER, agent for the Etna Life Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn., has received a draft for the insurance due on the life of W. H. Hocker amounting to $5,703.26. This is one of the most reliable Insurance Companies in existence. No Company has cheaper rates or pays better dividends than the Etna. Persons thinking of taking insurance should investigate the plans of the Etna as they are exceedingly liberal.

The president of the Cumberland Valley Land Co., Judge Vincent Boring, called a meeting of his directors here Saturday to obtain instructions with regard to the sale of the poplar timber privileges, for which there is now great demand, on the many thousands of acres of land owned by the company in Bell and Harlan counties. Having the utmost confidence in his business sagacity, it was decided that he should do as it seemed most advantageous to the company. President Boring has given great attention to the purchase of these lands and it goes without saying that he has done well in their selection.

Blow ye the coolest breezes, through the leaves and the trees, sing, oh! sing ye heavenly muses, while I patch your boots and shoes—on my big machine. T. J. Hatcher.

The Stanford Roller Mill Co. elected its old board of directors, with the exception of Messrs. H. S. Withers and T. J. Foster, whose vacancies were filled by Messrs. J. S. Hocker and J. W. Hayden.

The stockholders here in the People's National Bank of Ennis, Texas, are rejoicing over the receipt of the fourth semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent. With a capital of $100,000, it earned $9,407.19, the last six months.

The young people enjoyed an old fashioned bed quilting at Mrs. Fannie Dunn's Friday night. The young ladies did the sewing while the gentlemen threaded needles, fitted on thimbles and the like. This is a sensible move in society.

The Kentucky National Bank of Louisville, of which Dr. J. B. Owsley and J. S. Grimes are directors, is preparing to increase its capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000, making it the largest in the State. The bank does a very large business now, has $2,000,000 or more in deposits and $150,000 surplus.

CISTERNs seem to be in bad luck in the west end of town. A few days ago a dog fell into Dr. Reid's and was drowned. Of course the water had to be pumped off and it was ordered to be done. Just as it was commenced a little negro fell in and barely escaped following the dog to the long and happy home. Saturday night hogs got into the editor's premises and rooted the elevator top clean from the cistern. This reminds us to inquire of the Mayor if we have a hog law and to suggest that if we have the marshal be ordered to enforce it. The depredations of the roving, hungry swine are simply unbearable and if the town does not protect us we shall have to try the shot gun protection. Gates and good fences avail nothing when the pesky animals start on a foraging tour.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

STOLEN!

On Sunday night, December 30th, in the town of Stanford, Ky., a BLACK HORSE, about 15½ hands high, 5 years old, both hind feet white, small star in the forehead and snip on nose. He carries his tail, which is very heavy, a little one-sided. He was hitched to a side-bar buggy, comparatively new, with blue cloth linings. Besides the State reward of $50, I will give $25 for the recovery of the horse, buggy and thief. JAS. C. REID, 97 Stanford, Ky.

NOTICE!

On the 15th January, 1889,

I will sell my entire Stock of Goods for the benefit of those to whom I am indebted. My keys will be placed in the hands of T. R. Walton, who will see that the goods are sold and distributed between my creditors. I am compelled to do this because I have no trade. Those I buy from in this town buy nothing from me. This is very mortifying to me, as it is the first time I have been behind since I was turned out. I have always paid my debts and all that I owe shall be paid. I don't want to make a regular assignment, but all my goods shall go to those I owe. Respectfully, J. T. HARRIS.

Mr. JOHN S. LINDSEY was chosen director in the Somerset Banking Co.

Miss ANNIE WRAY is visiting at Mr. Silas Sandridge's, near Milledgeville.

Mrs. A. E. HENDLEY, of Boyle, was in town on a visit to relatives last week.

Miss ROWENA HUTCHISON, of Chattanooga, is visiting Miss Belle Hutchison.

Mr. JOHN HARRIS and family, of Gattard, are here en route to Pineville to locate.

Miss JENNY REID, of Hustonville, was the guest of her cousin, Miss Bessie Reid.

CHARLIE COX, representing John C. Lewis, Louisville, was with his parents Sunday.

Mr. AND Mrs. J. W. McALISTER returned Saturday to their home at St. Joseph, Mo.

Mrs. PHIL SODEN, of Louisville, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Huff Daddler.

Mr. H. C. FARRIS, of Junction City, was up Sunday to see his daughter, Mrs. Mark Hardin.

W. R. HUTCHISON, of the C. & S. R. R., with headquarters at Somerset, is visiting his mother.

W. M. HEWES, of Rawley, Wyoming Territory, attended the burial of his father, Mr. John Hewes.

Mr. J. L. WHITEHEAD, of Williamsburg, an old and valued friend and subscriber, was here yesterday.

Mr. T. N. ROBERTS, of Danville, for a while a member of our corps of correspondents, was here Friday.

Mr. J. R. FARRIS leaves to-day for Atlanta to dispose of a car-load of mules belonging to himself and Mr. Adam Pence.

Mrs. BELLE LINGGENTLER, of Gattard, Miss Mollie Adams, of Danville, and Miss Josie Moore, have been visiting relatives here.

CONTROLLER M. J. DURHAM arrived Sunday from Washington to attend the bedside of his eldest brother, James, who is very ill at his home in Boyle county.

REV. BEN HELM left yesterday for Georgia and Florida where he goes to wind up his affairs and get a transfer from his former Presbytery to the Transylvania.

Mr. JOHN H. WOODCOCK passed through town Saturday en route to Florida to make glad the hearts of the Barnes Troupe, who will be rejoiced to see their "dear John."

Mrs. MOLLIE MYERS suffered another severe hemorrhage Sunday. It was at first thought she would not survive it, but we are glad to state that she is considerably better at this writing.

Mr. JOHN S. HUGHES goes to Louisville to-day to be present at the marriage of Mr. A. J. Crawford, his partner in business at Somerset, to Miss Kathleen Staples, a beautiful young lady of that city, to-morrow.

Mr. J. P. SANDREFF has very kindly consented to serve us at Lancaster till Mr. Woodcock's return and we give his first letter herewith. To say the least Mr. W. will have no occasion to be ashamed of his substitute.

CITY AND VICINITY.

The Danville & Crab Orchard Turnpike Company has declared a dividend of 50 cents on the share.

BRUCE & McROBERTS have just received 16 dozen men's fineshoes in kangaroo and calf; machine and hand-sewed.

GENTS' woolen over and undershirts, caps, overshoes, sandals and all winter goods at reduced prices. Severance & Son.

DAVID TATEM, the Quaker preacher, will lecture at Rowland to-night at 7 o'clock. His subject will be "The irrepressible conflict."

I AM greatly in need of money and would be pleased if my customers, those knowing themselves indebted to me, would call and settle their old accounts. M. F. Elkin.

The Stanford Roller Mills, Supt. W. N. Potts tells us, put in a steamer last week for the purpose of steaming the wheat and thereby making the skin tougher and causing it to come off more evenly. Mr. Potts never lets any improvement escape his attention.

HAVING bought of Mr. A. T. Nunnally his livery business and added considerably to it, I am now prepared to furnish first-class turnouts on the shortest notice. I will always be found at my stable and rigs can be obtained night as well as day. It will be my aim to treat all alike and I ask a share of the patronage of all. Will also board horses by the day or month. I. M. Bruce.

The little boy, Harry Baker, who was shot in the hip a few months ago while he with his sister was trying to scare away a tramp, who had tried to get into the house in the absence of Mr. Baker, who lives near Junction City, an account of which we gave at the time of its happening, is thought to be in a dangerous condition. He has been gradually growing worse since the accident and the doctor becoming alarmed, looked into the wound, which has not yet healed, and found a lot of shattered bones. These they took out, but the boy, whose constitution is broken down from such suffering as he has had to bear, will not likely recover from the operation. This is a peculiarly sad case, as the discharge was from the gun his sister held in her hand, and the little boy was holding up a window for her to shoot out. It is another instance where the tramp nuisance has done serious damage and again it is proven that a coat of tar and feathers should be applied to the worthless scoundrels.

In the light we look at the newspaper business we can see as plainly as the Babylonians at the Feast of Belshazzar saw the handwriting on the wall that it is our duty, as solemn as any other obligation, to give that news which we think will interest our readers. This, we know, we occasionally fall short of doing. We consider sales, business changes and the like as matter both entertaining to our readers and helpful to the persons making the changes and hence if we deem such trade or sale of sufficient importance for publication we print it without consulting anybody. But, while we are at all times anxious for such items, dear reader, do not think for an instant that we are dependent on such news. We have oceans to print, much more than we have space for, and we frequently leave out matter which no doubt to the mass would be more readable, for the sake of obliging our town and countymen by inserting that which concerns them. And we ask, as a favor to us, should the publication of such business changes fail to meet with the approbation of the either the "trader or trades" that we be informed of the fact, and we shall take the matter under consideration.

A FEW days ago as Mr. James E. Lynn was taking a walk over his farm for the purpose of seeing how his stock was getting along and was no doubt in deep thought, when he happened to look up to find that a large goat of the "Billy" gender was making for him as fast as his feet could carry him. With but a moment to study what to do, for the goat was most upon him, Mr. Lynn decided to make for the fence, some 50 yards from him and thereby outwit the mad-dened Billy, who seemed intent on damaging his master. Those who know Mr. Lynn are well aware of the fact that he possesses more corpulence than running quality and of course he was overtaken before he reached the fence before him. Seeing that battle was imminent the gentleman shed his coat and went in for blood. After a desperate fight for 30 minutes or more Mr. Lynn decided that he stood only a chance of coming out second best or perhaps not coming out at all, he began to call for assistance. Being a considerable distance from his house and the wind blowing like sheet in the opposite direction, he yelled and fought alternately some ten minutes longer, when his son heard him and rushed to the scene. By this time the goat was getting a little worsted and with his master's reinforcements he was soon knocked out of the ring. Mr. Lynn was more scared than hurt and acknowledges that he thought his day of doom was upon him.

The Buffalo Spring Cemetery Co., has bought of Mr. Wesley Rount, his house and lot on cemetery hill for $2,500.

The Rowland people were so much impressed with Pascal Porter, the boy preacher, that they kept him with them an entire week.

By the escaping of steam from the boiler of his engine, Engineer Raynor inhaled some and is now suffering severely the effects of it.

Mrs. JOHN SHEAREN, who is suffering from dropsy of the bowels, gave birth to twins Friday. They were both boys and both died in a short time.

BOB BARRETT, brakeman, fell from a box car near Livingston Saturday and scarred his head up considerably. Otherwise he escaped unhurt.

The Presbyterian church was crowded Sunday afternoon to hear Pascal Porter, the boy preacher. His discourse was considered a very fine one.

In our advertising columns will be found an advertisement containing the description of the horse and buggy recently stolen from James Reid. Besides the State reward of $50 he offers an additional one of $25.

The First National Bank elected its old board of directors with the exception of Mr. Vincent Boreing, who resigned on account of his connection with the bank at London. Mr. F. Reid will fill the vacancy.

OWING to a misunderstanding, the Colored Hop Club and George Butcher, manager of Odd Fellows' Hall failed to come to an agreement and instead of holding their New Year's ball there they have rented Walton's Opera House.

The following from the San Diego, Cal., Sun will interest the gentleman's many friends here: W. B. Cloyd was the joyful recipient of the most precious New Year's gift he has ever received, a plump 9-pound daughter. Both mother and daughter are reported doing well.

A doctor tells us that the pavement in front of the College is making bow-legged, twisted-ankled girls and that humanity demands that it be repaired. Can't the city council enforce its orders or is it absolutely without power? The order to repair was made many months ago.

THE STEALING—William Wilkins, claiming Casey as his home, was caught stealing a couple of hogs from a negro living near Hustonville Friday night and was jailed here Saturday by Police Judge George Ryan. This is a pretty grave charge and Mr. Wilkins will likely go up for a year or so.

The editor, although suffering considerable pain, might be said to be in clover. He had 22 visitors, a good many of them young girls, one day last week and received five waiters and baskets containing delicacies. A broken leg is not so bad after all, especially when a person has been remembered so frequently and substantially as has the editor.

JOE MELVIN, of Crab Orchard, has bought the interest of Mr. F. W. Dillon, his former partner in the saw-mill business, for $2,000 and will continue the business alone. We received by our underground wire the information that Mr. Dillon would like to be postmaster at Crab Orchard. There are already 5 or 6 applicants and the prospects are that the winner will have a hard fight.

As has already been mentioned in your paper I have had to give up the regular pastorate on account of ill-health. I have accepted a position as traveling correspondent for the Union Central Life Insurance Co., of Cincinnati. This, I hope, is only temporary, as I desire as soon as possible to assume the pastorate for which I have endeavored to fit my self and to make my life work. R. B. Mahony.

MR. LUCIEN LANSLEY returned from Columbia, Mo., Sunday with his two 2-year-old thoroughbreds, Wood Moss and Ballymena, which he purchased there several months ago. They are fine lookers and we hope Mr. Lansley will make the racers of them he anticipates. He will take them, with the rest of the string, to Crab Orchard and put them in training as soon as the weather permits.

D. R. CARPENTER, agent for the Etina Life Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn., has received a draft for the insurance due on the life of W. H. Hocker amounting to $5,703.26. This is one of the most reliable Insurance Companies in existence. No Company has cheaper rates or pays better dividends than the Etina. Persons thinking of taking insurance should investigate the plans of the Etina as they are exceedingly liberal.

The president of the Cumberland Valley Land Co., Judge Vincent Boreing, called a meeting of his directory here Saturday to obtain instructions with regard to the sale of the popular timber privileges, for which there is now great demand, on the many thousands of acres of land owned by the company in Bell and Harlan counties. Having the utmost confidence in his business sagacity, it was decided that he should do as it seemed most advantageous to the company. President Boreing has given great attention to the purchase of these lands and it goes without saying that he has done well in their selection.

The Stanford Roller Mill Co. elected its old board of directors, with the exception of Messrs. H. S. Withers and T. J. Foster, whose vacancies were filled by Messrs. J. S. Hocker and J. W. Hayden.

The stockholders here in the People's National Bank of Ennis, Texas, are rejoicing over the receipt of the fourth semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent. With a capital of $100,000, it earned $9,407.19, the last six months.

The young people enjoyed an old fashioned bed quilting at Mrs. Fannie Dunn's Friday night. The young ladies did the sewing while the gentlemen threaded needles, fitted on thimbles and the like. This is a sensible move in society.

The Kentucky National Bank of Louisville, of which Dr. J. B. Owsley and J. S. Grimes are directors, is preparing to increase its capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000, making it the largest in the State. The bank does a very large business now, has $2,000,000 or more in deposits and $150,000 surplus.

CISTERS seem to be in bad luck in the west end of town. A few days ago a dog fell into Dr. Reid's and was drowned. Of course the water had to be pumped off and it was ordered to be done. Just as it was commenced a little negro fell in and barely escaped following the dog to the long and happy home. Saturday night hogs got into the editor's premises and rooted the elevator top clean from the cistern. This reminds us to inquire of the Mayor if we have a hog law and to suggest that if we have the marshal be ordered to enforce it. The depredations of the roving, hungry swine are simply unbearable and if the town does not protect us we shall have to try the shot gun protection. Gates and good fences avail nothing when the pesky animals start on a foraging tour.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

STOLEN!

On Sunday night, December 28th, in the town of Stanford, Ky., a BLACK HORSE, about 15½ hands high, 5 years old, both hind feet white, small star in the forehead and strip on nose. He carries his tail, which is very heavy, a little one sided. He was hitched to a side-bar buggy, comparatively new, with blue cloth linings. Besides the State reward of $50, I will give $25 for the recovery of the horse, buggy and thief. JAS. C. REID, Stanford, Ky.

NOTICE!

On the 15th January, 1889,

I will sell my entire Stock of Goods for the benefit of those to whom I am indebted. My keys will be placed in the hands of T. R. Walton, who will see that the goods are sold and distributed between my creditors. I am compelled to do this because I have no trade. Those I buy from in this town buy nothing from me. This is very mortifying to me, as it is the first time I have been behind since I was burned out. I have always paid my debts and all that I owe shall be paid. I don't want to make a regular assignment, but all my goods shall go to those I owe. Respectfully, J. T. HARRIS.

The Teacher

Who advised her pupils to strengthen their minds by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, appreciated the truth that bodily health is essential to mental vigor. For persons of delicate and feeble constitution, whether young or old, this medicine is remarkably beneficial. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring and fall I take a number of bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and am greatly benefited."—Mrs. James H. Eastman, Stoneham, Mass.

"I have taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla with great benefit to my general health."—Miss Thirza L. Cramer, Palmyra, Md.

"My daughter, twelve years of age, has suffered for the past year from General Debility.

A few weeks since, we began to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her health has greatly improved."—Mrs. Harriet H. Battles, South Chelmsford, Mass.

"About a year ago I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neuralgia resulting from malarial exposure in the army. I was in a very bad condition, but six bottles of the Sarsaparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Pills, have greatly improved my health. I am now able to work, and feel that I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies."—F. A. Pinkham, Soth Molineux, Mo.

"My daughter, sixteen years old, is using Ayer's Sarsaparilla with good effect."—Rev. S. J. Graham, United Brethren Church, Buckingham, W. Va.

"I suffered from Nervous Prostration, with lame back and headache, and have been much benefited by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I am now 80 years of age, and am satisfied that my present health and prolonged life are due to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Lucy Moffitt, Killbuck, Conn.

"Mrs. Ann H. Farnsworth, a lady 79 years old, So. Woodstock, Vt., writes: 'After several weeks' suffering from nervous prostration, I procured a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken half of it my usual health returned.'"

Poor Percy.

"Calliope," said the youth, in soft, thrilling, tender tones, as he gazed fondly in the face of the beautiful girl who sat beside him on the crimson, plush, tidy decorated sofa, "Calliope," and he pressed the snowy, velvety and shapely hand which he had taken in his and which was not withdrawn, "the time has come for a perfect understanding between us. I can no longer live in uncertainty. I must know my fate. Drifting along in the 'Dismal Swamp' of doubt and suspense is making my life a torture. I must declare myself. Calliope, I love you deeply, passionately, devotedly, tenderly, and it is for you to say whether that love is to be my happiness or my misery. Tell me, Calliope, sweetest, dearest, fairest, tell me, can you return my affection?"

"Oh, Algeon," murmured the beautiful maiden, a deep blush overspreading her lovely and expressive countenance, as the shadow of a cloudlet passed over the silvery surface of a stream on a sunny June day, "this is so sudden!"

"Oh, answer me," he implored, "do not spare my feelings. Death is preferable to suspense."

She turned away her face to conceal her confusion, as she replied in tones as soft, sweet and musical as ever trembled on the strings of the lyre of Orpheus: "It is useless for me to deny that you have made a deep impression on my heart, and—and—but let that admission content you. Maidenly modesty forbids me to say more."

"Oh, my darling," he exclaimed as he passionately kissed her hand, "you have made me the happiest of men. But there is one thing about which I wish to be satisfied—have I a rival in your affections?"

"You have not."

"There is nothing between Percy Yardstick and you?"

"Absolutely nothing."

"But he loves you and swears he will win you."

"Be not afraid," she said, "he is—"

"Poor?"

"Worse than that."

"He is what?" and in breathless excitement he awaited her answer.

"He is—"

"and placing her rosy lips close to his ear, while her color came and went, revealing in her face alternately the lily and the rose, she murmured in a voice as soft as the sigh of a zephyr—'He is in the soup.'—Boston Courier.

I dropped into the Presbyterian church last Sunday afternoon and was edified for about an hour listening attentively to Rev. Ben Helm's lecture on "China—its Inhabitants and Customs." At the close of the lecture he called for a song. The organist and chorist were absent and in these latter days it takes a man of more than ordinary courage to tackle song in church without an organ accompaniment. But a song had to be sung just at this particular time and Bro. Helm requested some one in the large congregation present to volunteer and present his claims as "a leader." Messrs. Gabe Raney and Wm. Severance deliberately proceeded down the aisle, and on reaching the front bench the former gentleman turned himself loose on "King the Bells Heaven," the congregation joining in quite lively in the wind-up. The latter gentleman mentioned above then proceeded with "Bringing in the Sheaves," but it was not a good day for harvesting and the ambitious and deservingly young man "dropped the bundle" or song before half through the first verse, forgetting which way the line and time went, which stated that "we shall come rejoicing bringing in the sheaves."

A smile passed over the audience and then some good old brother quickly took in the situation and tried to "lead" the remainder of the verse, but he couldn't quite cut it, when a third gentleman in the corner came to his rescue and such music is seldom heard. Truly did "the welkin ring," but it had to be heard to be fully appreciated. The organist and chorist are requested to be present next time.—Scribble in Harrodsburg Sayings and Doings.

A CONTINUED FULL MOON.—At the Western Union Telegraph office at Chicago they have an operator whom they call Moon because he is full so often.

During a terrible electric storm recently he awoke from a placid doze to find the lightning clicking away at the instrument like fun.

Slightly confused from his potatoes, half conscious that a big rush of business had come, he managed to get his fingers on the transmitter.

Crash came a thunderbolt.

"Don't send so fast," gravely clicked Moon over the wire.—Chicago Ledger.

How HE MADE HIS BOODLE.—"And you believe in liberal advertising?"

"I spend $5,000 a week in advertising, and pay a skillful man—a former newspaper editor and a good one—$1,000 a month to do it for me. I make money by it. Advertising is the leverage with which this store has been raised up."—John Wana-maker.

Sarah Bernhardt was weighed the other day, and, much to her astonishment, tipped the scales at 97 pounds. As her usual weight is but 68 pounds, she was very much concerned, and sent for her physician, when it was found that she had forgotten to remove her pocket-book from her person before getting on the scales.—New York Mail.

The Congressional Bath-Rooms.

But the coolest place is down in the bath-rooms. In the lowest basement of the Capitol. Both the Senate and the House are provided with the most perfect bathing facilities. The bath-rooms are well patronized. The tubs are spacious and of cool, white marble. There are attendants to prepare the baths and to rub the statesmen down or wipe them off if they desire it. Scented soaps, bay rum and cooling toilet waters are at their command. They can get in a tub of cool water and soak for an hour if they desire. They can even have ice in the water if they desire it. They have the comforts of the world at their command. It was under such conditions that Mr. Reagan took his famous bath when he emerged wrapped in a sheet to vote for the Morrison bill during the last Congress. The over-worked Representatives and over-tired Senators find a luxury in this. I am told of one of the Senators who sits in the bath and reads. The men in charge of these baths are kept busy turning on and off the water, changing towels and distributing lotions from morning until night and even during the night when there is what is called an "evening session"—a deceptive term which denotes a session which may close at 10 o'clock or one in the morning.—Washington Letter in Philadelphia Telegram.

SOUTHERN THRIFT.—That the South is advancing most rapidly and wonderfully in manufacturing interests is evident. She is fast exceeding all other portions of this great country in the erection of factories and other industries. The January Tradesman gives a full list of every industry established in Southern States during 1888, from which we quote Kentucky's share: Car works 1; breweries 1; cotton and woolen mills 4; electric light works 8; flour mills 15; foundries and machine shops 17; blast furnaces 4; mining and quarrying companies 28; water works 5; ice factories 2; street railways 2; wood working establishments 36; railroad companies organized 19; besides a large number of miscellaneous industries. These figures show the unmistakable rapid strides our State is making towards becoming the manufacturing centre that she is so well fitted for.

The editor of the Seneca, (Ala.) Sentinel thus asks his readers to come forward and pay back subscriptions: "It is a sad duty to us to state to the many readers of this paper that we are actually in need of a new suit of clothes. We would like to attend preaching, but remain away because we are ashamed to enter the church with the suit that is worn daily; we go occasionally, but have to slip in and take a back seat. This piece is not written for the purpose of soliciting some kind friend to donate us a suit of clothes, nor some kind-hearted merchant to sell us a suit on time; but to arouse the sympathies of those who owe us. We have spent the last dollar in our possession to accommodate you; now come to our needy assistance and receive the blessings that only a poor, oppressed newspaper man can bestow."

Charitable Criticism.

An English organ-builder was one day asked what was thought of Mr. Blank as an organist.

"Sir," he said, with mock solemnity, "he is a most respectable man."

"Yes, I have no doubts of that, but I want to know how he ranks as a performer on the organ."

"Sir, he is a most exemplary man, and one who plays as though he were also a charitable man."

"Now would you mind telling me what you mean by saying he performs like a charitable man?"

"Well, if I must be explicit, Mr. Blank plays upon the organ as though he did not let his left hand know what his right hand was doing."—Youth's Companion.

When a man is trying to run a country paper with an army press and a handful of type and 17 paid-up subscriptions; when he is compelled to skirmish around on the outside of his business to make a living by begging, borrowing or stealing when he is out of heart, hope, friends and money; in debt, in love and in the middle of a railroad rumpus that will not come to a focus; when he hasn't nothing in the past but remembrance of failure, and nothing in the future but visions of the poor-house—well, under such circumstances he is in "confounded poor shape to assume a virtue that he hasn't got, or a joy that he doesn't feel."—Benton Tribune.

At the present price of whisky, if the Government tax were removed a man could buy about two gallons for a quarter. A change from two drinks for a quart to two gallons for a quarter would handsomely realize the promise of the republican platform.—Chicago Herald.

Since the publication of the fact that it takes 50 years traveling at the rate of 60 miles an hour, to go from the earth to Venus, Cradlock is the only newspaper man in Kentucky who would accept a free pass for the trip.—Louisville Times.

Cincinnati has a medical college which turns out a graduate in five weeks. There may come a time when a man can drop a nickel in the slot and obtain a Doctor's Diploma.—New York World.

Divorce is unknown in North Carolina. Marriage is for life and there is no provision for its dissolution. On this account it is said that there is less marital infidelity than there is in any other State.

Beauty

Is desired and admired by all. Among the things which may best be done to enhance personal beauty is the daily use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. No matter what the color of the hair, this preparation gives it a lustre and pliancy that adds greatly to its charm. Should the hair be thin, harsh, dry, or turning gray, Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the color, bring out a new growth, and render the old soft and shiny. For keeping the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, there is no better preparation in the market.

I am free to confess that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor has convinced me that it is a genuine article. Its use has not only caused the hair of my wife and daughter to be Abundant and Glossy, but it has given my rather stunted mustache a respectable length and appearance."—R. Britton, Oakland, Ohio.

"My hair was coming out (without any assistance from my wife, either). I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor, using only one bottle, and I now have as fine a head of hair as any one could wish for."—R. T. Schmitt, Dickinson, Tenn.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor in my family for a number of years, and regard it as the best hair preparation I know of. It keeps the scalp clean, the hair soft and lively, and preserves the original color. My wife has used it for a long time with most satisfactory results."—Benjamin M. Johnson, M. D., Thomas Hill, Mo.

"My hair was becoming harsh and dry, but after using half a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor it grew black and glossy. I cannot express the joy and gratitude I feel."—Mabel C. Hardy, Delavan, Ill.
